

Investing in Hospitality Minnesota

Hospitality is a dynamic industry, and our members range from single location operations to large mixed property management companies and from multi-generational, family-owned to multi-national corporations. All of our members have at least one very important thing in common, you are welcoming guests and creating distinct experiences at your Minnesota hospitality business.

Our goal is that every hospitality business views membership in Hospitality Minnesota as an essential, affordable investment in a powerful business asset that contributes to your business success. As we set out to design our new member dues investment model, we talked with our board and members like you. We came up with three key organizing principles:

1. Make it simple;
2. Make it transparent
3. Make it fair

So what does this mean for you?

For you, as a renewing member, the new investment model means a simplified invoice renewal process and a fee structure built on your business results from the prior year's economic environment. It's a real-world approach that right-sizes your annual investment each year, taking your entire enterprise into account.

The new investment model is revenue-based and encompasses your entire hospitality business portfolio in Minnesota. That means the investment for lodging properties will no longer be based on a per key calculation and for our resorts and campgrounds, the annual membership will no longer be calculated using a flat rate plus a per bedroom/campsite fee. For our restaurants and foodservice businesses, this new model will be most familiar though the revenue ranges have been broadened. We believe this will bring you the greatest value, because you'll pay one amount on one invoice to cover all operations, regardless of the business types under your umbrella. All your employees are considered members, with access to a wide array of cross-sector benefits to help them and your business grow and thrive. We know this is increasingly important to support your organization with professional development and training opportunities, along with helpful connections and industry insights.

We also believe this approach makes the most sense in light of the impact the pandemic likely had on your business directly and the industry as a whole. Each year, your annual investment will flex by taking into account your actual operating conditions and sales results. It's a more fair and realistic way to calibrate your investment, one that should be on par, or less than, in past years. Even as your investment category changes over time, your access to HM member benefits remains the same.

Here's how it works.

The model is designed on the foundation that all owned, licensed and managed properties across all hospitality sectors will be included in your membership investment calculation. We know that if we do our job well by providing the essential resources and information you need, a strong ROI will follow. Your business will improve, and your association will get stronger.
